Massage Therapy

The average annual income for Massage Therapists is $43,000. The amount you earn depends on in what capacity you choose to work as a Therapist. Right now, the massage industry is said to be booming so it could be a good time to get in on the ground floor. Of course, it's not as simple as walking out the door and saying "I'm a Massage Therapist now." There is training and required certification to be considered.

Currently, the Florida and 37 states require licensing to work as a Massage Therapist. There are two types of national certification exams and transferring your license from one state to another state is pretty much determined on a state to state basis. There are so many facets of massage therapy, including but not limited to:

- Hospital Massage Therapist
- Physical Therapy/Rehab Massage Therapist
- Spa or Health Club Massage Therapist
- Chiropractic Massage Therapist

You will also be amazed that there are actually over 160 methods of massage. The Swedish massage, deep tissue massage, sports massage, hot stone massage, acupressure and Thai massage are only a few of those available. Palm Beach State College offers a massage therapy program on the Boca Raton Campus. For more information go to:

Three Questions to ask Yourself Before an Interview

When we talk about preparing for an interview, we mean covering everything that makes you look as a potential candidate for the job.

Know Yourself
- What are my skills and abilities? What are my strengths?
- How do my skills and experiences relate to the employers’ needs?

Prepare Yourself
- Obtain a copy of the job description
- Use the employer’s websites to research the company

Practice
- Practice answering interview questions (out loud).

Checklist
- Confirm date, time and place of interview.
- Pack several copies of your resume
- Bring a list of references with you

Success is not the key to happiness.
Happiness is the key to success. If you love what you are doing, you will be successful.

The Palm Beach State College Career Centers are committed to educating and assisting students in developing, evaluating and implementing career plans.
