FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

MEDIA ADVISORY

Students to compete for the right to be called "Mr. and Ms. PBCC"

(Oct. 26, 2004 – Lake Worth, FL) Palm Beach Community College students will have to possess more than beauty and talent to become Mr. and Ms. PBCC on Nov. 3. Those who compete for the titles will be expected to represent the College at large events both on campus and off.

"They must be articulate ambassadors for the College," says Sheri Glick-Cuenot, student activities coordinator at PBCC in Boca Raton. Students from PBCC's four locations in Boca Raton, Lake Worth, Belle Glade and Palm Beach Gardens will compete in the categories of talent, evening wear and personal interviews with judges. The event will be held at 7 p.m. in the Eissey Campus Theatre on Campus Drive off PGA Blvd. The sponsors are the Student Government Association and the Offices of Student Activities.

At least 17 students will compete for scholarship prizes. The first place scholarship is $500, second $250 and third $100, each awarded to both male and female winners for a total of six scholarships. The Salsa Caliente Dance Company and student groups will provide entertainment. To find out more, call Sheri Glick-Cuenot at (561) 862-4329.
