FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Arts Supporters Celebrate PBCC Humanities Opening

(February 11, 2005 – Lake Worth) Community supporters of the arts and humanities attended a reception at Palm Beach Community College in Lake Worth on Jan. 20 to showcase the newly renovated humanities building.

The reception was held in the new art gallery on the Lake Worth campus, which featured art works by PBCC faculty members, including painters Clarence "Skip" Measelle, Vernon Grant and Alessandra Gieffers and tile ceramic artist Nazare Feliciano.

The College is showcasing its humanities facilities as part of a $13 million initiative for the arts and humanities to provide much needed equipment, scholarships, additional renovations and naming opportunities to build an endowment that will secure programs for current and future students.

For more information about supporting the arts at PBCC or to arrange a tour of the new facility, contact Rick Schuster with the PBCC Foundation at (561) 868-3450.
