FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

New gallery exhibit to promote graphic design

(April 13, 2005 – Lake Worth) When the new art gallery in the Humanities building at PBCC in Lake Worth opens its next exhibition on April 21, the College will usher in a new emphasis on graphic design. “Graphic Design at PBCC 2005” will feature the best of student and faculty design from the last five years and is the first major graphic design exhibition at PBCC.

“The show kicks off an extensive design promotion campaign at all four locations,” explained Prof. Vernon Grant, department chair for fine arts and graphic design. “Every three months a new poster will be collaboratively designed by faculty and students to be displayed at key places where students congregate.”

The graphic design show will feature posters, brochures, CD cover designs, self promotion pieces (logos, stationery, business cards), packaging designs, collaborative projects between students and faculty and more.

The opening reception on April 21 is from 5-7 p.m. The exhibition will be displayed through June 30. For more information on the exhibit or the PBCC graphic design program, please contact Professor Grant at 561-868-3780.
