FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Free technology training seminar for small businesses set for Aug. 25 at Palm Beach Community College

(Lake Worth, Fla.—Aug. 9, 2005) Palm Beach Community College and the Black Chamber of Commerce of Palm Beach County, Inc. are sponsoring a free seminar Aug. 25 to help small businesses get plugged into the latest technology.

Dubbed TechTalk, the seminar will be held from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. at PBCC's Lake Worth location, 4200 Congress Ave. It is free and open to all small businesses in Palm Beach County. Attendees must RSVP. Seating is limited.

The seminar will focus on how businesses can use technology to improve productivity. It will include discussions on the Palm Pilot, BlackBerry and other hand held technology. It also will include discussions on hardware, software, storage, data security and using the Internet for commerce and business marketing. CompUSA will offer various product demonstrations.

Deborah Forsten, an adjunct instructor at PBCC, will be the keynote speaker. Forsen has been involved in computer technology for the past 18 years through marketing, communications and logistical planning for the Olympic Sports Movement and the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign Continuing Education Department, Conference and Institutes division.

For more information or to RSVP, please call (561) 833-1570 or send e-mail to BlackForums@BlackChamberPBC.com .
