Palm Beach Community College to honor four individuals at 7th annual Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Celebration Breakfast Jan. 12

WHAT: As part of the 7th annual Martin Luther King, Jr. Breakfast, Palm Beach Community College will honor four individuals who have made major contributions toward improving the lives of others, particularly the underserved, in Palm Beach County. Recipients of the Martin Luther King, Jr. Leadership awards are: Bishop Harold Calvin Ray, pastor of Redemptive Life Fellowship; Palm Beach County Sheriff's Deputy Lillian "Lee" Sutterfield; PBCC at Belle Glade student Javier Rodriguez and Delray Beach Police Officer Jean-Albert "Johnny" Pun, who is being honored posthumously. Pun's wife, Marie, will accept his award.

Juan Williams, a senior correspondent for National Public Radio and a political analyst for Fox News Channel, will be the keynote speaker for the celebration. Following the celebration, Williams will hold a Q&A session with PBCC students at the Duncan Theatre.

An interview with Williams will be available after 3 p.m. Jan. 12 on the Internet at <http://www.pbcc.edu/podcasts>. The public is invited to download it and listen to it on their desktop, MP3 player or other audio devices.

WHEN: Thursday, Jan. 12, 2006
Breakfast begins at 7:30 a.m. and the program begins at 8 a.m. Williams will begin speaking at about 8:20 a.m. The awards will be presented after his speech.
