FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Public invited to PBCC film screening

Documentaries and short films include the socially relevant, interpersonal conflict and pure entertainment

(April 6, 2006 – Palm Beach Gardens) If you want to know what's important to young people these days, come to the end-of-semester screening of films created by students in the Motion Picture and Television Production Technology Program at Palm Beach Community College. The films range from topical documentaries to short, entertaining films, said Michael Seminerio, program manager.

The students participated in The International Documentary Challenge, one of 74 teams from nine countries, and produced a documentary on county resident Leonid Afremov, a painter exiled both from Russia and Israel where his work was censored. The International Documentary Challenge required filmmaking teams to make a short documentary (4-8 minutes) in just five days. All creativity - research, writing, shooting, editing and adding a musical soundtrack - must have occurred between March 22 and March 27 this year.

The films and documentaries will be screened April 26 at the Eissey Campus Theatre at 7:30 p.m. at PBCC in Palm Beach Gardens, 3160 PGA Blvd. Admission is free. For more information, contact Prof. Michael Seminerio at 561-207-5045.
