Palm Beach Community College student elected secretary of statewide organization

(Lake Worth, Fla. – Sept. 21, 2006) Palm Beach Community College student Tahsin Nabid has been elected secretary of the Florida Junior Community College Student Government Association. The organization represents 1.1 million students at Florida's 28 community colleges.

The Lake Worth resident said his new role as secretary is a natural progression. He's been active in the SGA at PBCC's Lake Worth campus for two years and serves as the group's legislative liaison. Last year he served as coordinator of FJCCSGA's District I, which includes community colleges in Palm Beach, Broward, Miami-Dade, Monroe and Lee counties.

"I'm pretty excited about continuing to work on the goals of FJCCSGA and to make the student voice known in the legislative process."

A native of Bangladesh, Nabid also was recently re-elected to his second term as state vice president for Phi Beta Lambda, the premier organization for students preparing for careers in business. Phi Beta Lambda has 500 chapters throughout the country.

Nabid, a Lake Worth High School graduate, is pursuing an associate in arts degree. He plans to transfer to the University of Central Florida to pursue a bachelor's degree in business administration. He also plans to obtain a master's degree in student educational leadership. His goal is to work in student services at a college or university.
