Rep. Joe Casello was born and raised in Worcester, Mass. where he attended public schools. He graduated from Worcester Industrial Technical Institute in 1972 and earned his Associate in Science degree from Quinsigamond Community College in 2002. In his hometown, he served on many boards and committees managing millions of dollars in assets and raising thousands of dollars for charitable organizations. He served on the Worcester Fire Department Credit Union Board of Trustees, Municipal Retirees Organization, United Way and Habitat for Humanity.

Casello honorably served as a noncommissioned officer in the United States Air Force. Assigned to the 212th ANG Unit, he was responsible for the installation of radio transmission sites throughout the country. In 1974, he was appointed to the Worcester Fire Department and promoted to lieutenant in 1984. Within the Fire Department, he served in many capacities, including arson investigator, working closely with the State Fire Marshal’s Office and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms and Explosives (ATF).

As a business owner and licensed electrical contractor for over 23 years, he operated Casello Electrical Services, specializing in residential and commercial electrical design and installation.

Casello, who is a current member of the JFK Hospital Board of Trustees in Palm Beach County, was elected to the Florida House of Representatives in 2018. Having served the people of Boynton Beach as their city commissioner from 2013-2017, his focus continues to be enhancing public safety, supporting our local economy, improving our education system and creating jobs.
Rep. Mike Caruso learned from a young age that in order to succeed, he needed to roll up his sleeves and work hard until the job was done. As a child, he sold flowers and mowed lawns to earn money. He kept his entrepreneurial spirit alive and worked his way through college at George Washington University, where he earned a degree in business administration, specializing in accounting.

After years of experience as a certified public accountant in accounting firms such as KPMG and Grant Thornton International, Caruso opened his own CPA firm, Caruso & Caruso, in Palm Beach County. Over the next three decades, he used his skills to benefit the community, serving on the boards of many community organizations and as an expert forensic accounting witness in many local and national court cases. He is a proud father of seven, a champion barefoot water-skier, a tennis enthusiast, and enjoys spending time at the beach with his wife and two dogs. He is honored to call District 89 his home where he has lived for 32 years.

Since being elected to the Florida House, Caruso has been assigned to serve on the following committees: Energy & Utilities Subcommittee; Higher Education & Career Readiness Subcommittee; Insurance & Banking Subcommittee; Joint Legislative Auditing Committee; Transportation & Infrastructure Subcommittee; and the Ways & Means Committee. He is proud to have recently completed his first successful legislative session in Tallahassee where he was able to bring back a significant investment from the state in our community as well as to have passed legislation relating to anti-Semitism and sober homes.

The Academic Mace is a descendant from weapons in ancient and medieval times that were carried by bodyguards. Over time, the mace became a symbol of peaceful leadership, and academic maces represent the authority that has been invested in the president by the college’s Board. The mace is carried in processions by a high official or a representative of the Governing Board. At Palm Beach State College, the mace is carried at every commencement by the faculty member with the longest tenure at the College. The Palm Beach State College mace is a tinted glass flame. The College seal is embedded in this glass flame, symbolic of scholars igniting the quest for knowledge. At the base of the flame are golden pillars proclaiming various areas of study pursued at the College.

ACADEMIC ATTIRE

The academic attire worn at commencement ceremonies today is based on a history of tradition which began in medieval Europe. At a time when the general type of clothing worn was the robe or gown, individual rank or wealth was indicated by colors and materials. As trades, professions, guilds and universities developed, distinctive variations came into being to identify the various members' individual affiliations.

Universities gradually modified the gowns, capes, hoods and caps into distinctive forms to identify an individual's level of academic achievement. In the 1890s, American colleges and universities agreed upon a somewhat uniform application of the academic regalia. Typically, scholars with the bachelor's degree wear the unadorned black robe. Those with the master's degree also wear a hood lined with the colors of their college and trimmed with the specific color designated for their academic discipline area. The doctoral degree robe additionally has three velvet bars on each sleeve, and the hood is more ornate.

At Palm Beach State College, all associate degree, certificate and diploma graduates wear a black gown and mortar board with tassel. Bachelor's degree graduates will wear a green gown and mortar board with drab tassel and BSN graduates' tassels are apricot. In addition, the following are the approved academic regalia for honor society members:

- Dr. Floyd F. Koch Honors College (Gold Track)
  Gold medallion, royal blue and yellow cord

DECORUM & PROTOCOL

Decorum and courtesy are expected of graduates and guests during Commencement.

- Silence and dim cell phones during the ceremony.
- Wear cap throughout entire ceremony. Men should remove their caps during the National Anthem.
- No noisemakers, balloons, bubbles, beach balls, or similar items are allowed in the ceremony. The use of noisemakers may be intended to show one person’s pride in a graduate, but it can also ruin the chance for another family to hear the name of their graduate announced.

All graduates are expected to stay for the entire ceremony.
