

SPRING 2020 LPN ELECTRONIC INFORMATION SESSION AND PROGRAM APPLICATION

***BE ADVISED*****

The Spring 2020 LPN Application Cycle has been extended due to pending changes in the state of Florida curriculum for this program. The application and electronic information session will now post on Friday, October 4, 2019 at 5:00pm. The application deadline has moved to November 15, 2019.

The electronic information session and the program application for the upcoming Spring 2020 class for the Practical Nursing Program will be available shortly. The electronic information session will allow students to complete the session on the LPN website and will no longer require students to attend on-campus sessions. The online information sessions are scheduled to post October 4, 2019 along with the Spring 2020 Practical Nursing application. Students will have approximately two months to complete the electronic information session and the Practical Nursing program application.

Included in the information session will be a short quiz that students will need to complete and submit with their applications. Students MUST receive a 100% on the quiz in order receive credit for attending the MANDATORY session.

The application deadline for the Spring 2020 Practical Nursing program is November 15, 2019.

Interested students waiting on the electronic information session can do the following to prepare for admission into the program:

- See an Academic Advisor on any campus.
- Study for the HESI Admission Assessment Exam (A<sup>2</sup>) as this is now the entrance exam into the Practical Nursing Program (See separate section on this website entitled, “HESI Admission Assessment Exam” for information regarding this exam).
- Take the TABE exam.
- Contact the Nursing Program Offices if you have additional questions:
