NUR 2261

Course Description

This course continues to advance the concepts for nursing practice. Through the integrated approach of classroom learning and client care across the lifespan, in a variety of settings, the student progresses in the application of nursing concepts and skills. The emphasis is on concepts such as family dynamics, gas exchange, interpersonal violence, addiction, intracranial regulation, cognition, collaboration, care coordination, and care giving.

Course Outcomes

1. Analyze plans of care based on patients’ individual needs for successful growth as human beings.
2. Analyze and examine processes for health promotion, health maintenance and risk reduction for self and others.
3. Construct verbal, non-verbal, written or electronic information for the promotion of positive outcomes and the establishment of therapeutic relationships.
4. Distinguish patient health status through the comprehensive analysis and synthesis of relevant data.
5. Provide patient care using critical thinking to formulate clinical judgments based on the classification and discrimination of accurate assessments and multiple sources of information.
6. Participate in the collaboration of shared planning, decision making and goal setting for holistic patient-centered care across health care settings.
7. Integrate standards of professional practice while accepting accountability for personal actions/behaviors.
8. Distinguish nursing responsibilities within legal, ethical and regulatory frameworks while caring for diverse populations.
9. Effectively plan patient and organizational outcomes through ongoing inquiry and the efficient and effective use of human, physical, financial and technological resources.